Klan Is Whipped Declares Governor, Jewett Enmeshed

Highest Officer of Ku Klux Klan Is Now Brought In to Net—Pleads Not Guilty to Beating Charge.

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—A threat to close the Oklahoma State Fair and place Oklahoma county under more rigid enforcement of martial law unless members of the legislature abandon their plan to meet in extra session on Wednesday was voiced today by Gov. J. C. Walton.

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—The net spread by Governor J. C. Walton for alleged participants in mob violence has entangled Grand Dragon N. C. Jewett, the highest officer of the Ku Klux Klan in Oklahoma. Upon evidence obtained by a military court investigating floggings in this state under the governor's proclamation of martial law, Jewett was arrested here last night by the civil authorities in connection with the beating of E. R. Merriman, of Oklahoma City on the night of March 17th, 1922.

He pleaded not guilty to a formal charge of riot and was released on $1,000 bond. Charging that 68 members of the lower House of the Oklahoma legislature are members of the Ku Klux Klan, Governor Walton declared last night that the legislative session which has been called to consider the House of Representatives impeachment proceedings would not meet next Wednesday, because any such attempt would constitute an unlawful assembly of the Klan under the martial law. He has threatened to imprison any member of the legislature who attempts to attend an extraordinary session. "But the Klan is whipped," the governor said at his "headquarters" in the executive mansion where he has been confined for the last week with a heavy cold. One hundred and eighty cases of mob violence have been considered by the military court at Tulsa since martial law was declared last night, he said.

Several of them have admitted membership in the Klan have been arrested as a result of the court's findings. A joint commission of military and civil authorities met yesterday by ordering the arrest of three men for alleged participation in the flogging of a man there in June 1922.

SAYS LEGISLATURE WILL NOT MEET TO IMPEACH GOV.

(By The Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22.—The Oklahoma legislature will never be permitted to meet in the State House or in this city for the purpose of impeaching Governor Walton, said one of the close advisers of the governor tonight. The governor, himself, was escorted by military forces and was expected to give formal sanction to this attitude later.

The call for the special session, now signed by 75 members, will be filed with the secretary of state Wednesday. It is thought that the legislature will meet in secret in the city and then adjourn to some other part of the state for impeachment proceedings.

Anti-klansmen, armed, are gathering in the city tonight. The fair crowds, which are coming in rapidly for the opening today, Klan and anti-Klan, are maneuvering, and the men at guard headquarters are preparing for trouble. Mounted machine guns are ready for action.

"The legislature will meet," said W. D. McRea, Duncan lawyer, member of the legislature, today. "The governor has threatened to throw us in jail, would he do so, I would not care. I would like to see the ideas of American liberty."

CRIMINALS FROM DANVILLE ARE WARNED BY JUDGE

GREENSBORO, N. C., Sept. 21.—"I am giving notice to the criminals of Danville that they had better stay out of North Carolina," Superior Court Judge Thomas J. Shaw said yesterday afternoon, after he sentenced Paul Elmer Willie Moorefield and Ed Motley, confessed store robbers to 10 years each in the state penitentiary.

Three of Danville, Va., and just 20 years of age, told Judge Shaw that they entered W. King's store at White Oak last Friday night and carried away merchandise valued at more than $1,000. They said they carried the loot back to Danville on a freight train, storing the merchandise in an empty freight car.

Each of the men told a straightforward story and made no effort to deny a part in the robbery or conceal any of the facts. They said the officers recovered a greater portion of the stolen goods when they were arrested.

All confessed criminal records, Motley said he had served six months on the Rockingham county chain gang for buying stolen goods. Moorefield said he had served six months of a five-year sentence in the Virginia penitentiary at Richmond for relations with a girl under the legal age. He said he was pardoned after serving six months. Pinnix said he had served 15 days and paid a fine of $50 for operating an automobile while drunk.

They said they came to Greensboro last Friday, arriving here about dark, to "see some girls." Telling to see the girls they slept in the park until about 2:30 o'clock in the morning and then broke into the store. Pinnix said they used a pair of old pliers to open the window and enter an entrance.

None of the men made any statement in his own defense and each maintained a calm demeanor as the judge sentenced them to 10 years at hard labor in state's prison. Pinnix is a cripple.

Justice moved swiftly for the young men. They were arrested Tuesday, brought to Greensboro yesterday, given a preliminary hearing before Judge D. H. Collins yesterday and were bound over to the grand jury indicted for breaking and entering and sentenced by 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This morning they have in the custody of two deputy sheriffs for Raleigh to begin serving their sentence.

Moorefield and Motley were arrested at Danville when they were trying to escape from the local penitentiary. They were arrested at the police and apprehended at Lynchburg, Va., where he said he had gone to after school.

Judge Shaw questioned the young men closely before passing sentence. He explored the present day criminal records of young men. "Fifty per cent of the crime today is committed by young men," he said.

Judge Shaw said, "All over North Carolina I find the doctors and lawyers are all over the place. I find the doctors and lawyers are all over the place. I find the doctors and lawyers are all over the place."

LEGISLATION TO RESTRICT CHILD LABOR EXPECTED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Revival of agitation for legislation to restrict child labor in the United States is certain to come with the opening of the next Congress and President Coolidge is believed to be in thorough sympathy with the movement behind which the American Federation of Labor already has placed its resources.

Today Samuel Gompers, president of the labor federation, discussed the subject with President Coolidge at the White House, incidentally paying the way for further conferences on legislation which labor will urge upon Congress next winter.

Following his talk with the president, Mr. Gompers said he had found the chief executive in a receptive mood with respect to the need for child labor restrictive measures and entirely in sympathy with all efforts to bring about legislation which will stand the test of the courts.

The president pointed out to the labor leader that his own state, Massachusetts, had enacted legislation to restrict child labor and that he, while governor of the Bay State, had signed the 48 hours a week law.

Mr. Gompers called attention to the fact that since the last child labor law had been declared unconstitutional there has been an increase of 36 per cent in the number of children employed in the industries of the United States.

Mr. Gompers informed the president of the efforts that have been under way to stir up agitation for child labor legislation in the recent past. Representatives of eighteen national organizations of women interested in the restriction of child labor, he said, had met with officials of the American Federation and arranged a national conference on child labor, which had been informed by expert counsel, he said, that in view of the supreme court's decision, a constitutional amendment will be necessary before any adequate restrictive legislation can be enacted which would withstand judicial scrutiny.

In view of this it is probable that the first effort to be made by child labor champions in Congress will be to get through a resolution providing for a constitutional amendment. This, it is recognized, will mean a long hard fight with the subsequent ratification necessary by the legislatures of the states but they believe that it will be wise to let the matter take such a course in order that legislation when finally enacted will be enduring.

MAKES REPORT ON BOLL WEEVIL PROBE MADE

(By The Associated Press)
 RALPHIGH, N. C., Sept. 21.—By making an investment of $1,250 for poison and machines R. F. Stewart, of Aberdeen, was able to dust all of his cotton on 275 acres four or five times and will probably save one-fourth of his crop, or 100 pounds of lint per acre this season, said Dr. W. L. Leiby, on returning to the headquarters here of the Department of Agriculture from Aberdeen after closing the boll weevil field investigation station there.

Mr. Stewart normally made a bale of cotton to the acre before the coming of the weevil, said Dr. Leiby. This year he offered his fields in cooperation with the work being done at the agricultural field station at Aberdeen and under Dr. Leiby's direction a careful study was made of all conditions affecting the cotton during the year. Applications of poison were made according to the method employed by the station, and the percentage of punctured squares was so held down that nearly a full crop was made, according to Dr. Leiby.

The crop was made, continued Dr. Leiby, with the aid of a favorable season, by proper planning, adequate fertilization and cultivation, but it had to be saved by applications of poison. Mr. Stewart's dusting machine cost him $600 and his poison cost $1,250, making a total outlay of $1,850 for fighting the weevil. According to counts made in his fields recently, said Dr. Leiby, at least one-fourth of his crop was saved. Figuring the cotton will bring 17 cents a pound, which was the price at the time the observations were made, the result is $8,122 more income for his cotton crop. The cost of the material used in combating the weevil was $1,930, not counting the labor, but including the cost of dusting machines, which are good for several more years usage. The net gain is the difference between $8,122 and $1,930, or $6,192. Dr. Leiby said that if the weevil had inflicted no injury at all, Mr. Stewart would have been out only the interest on his investment, because he would not have used the poison or machines, but saved them for another year.

Dr. Leiby compared the results obtained by Mr. Stewart with those of other cotton planters in the southern and southeastern tier of counties who did not follow the same course of combating the weevil. Used by Mr. Stewart under the direction of the agricultural field station.

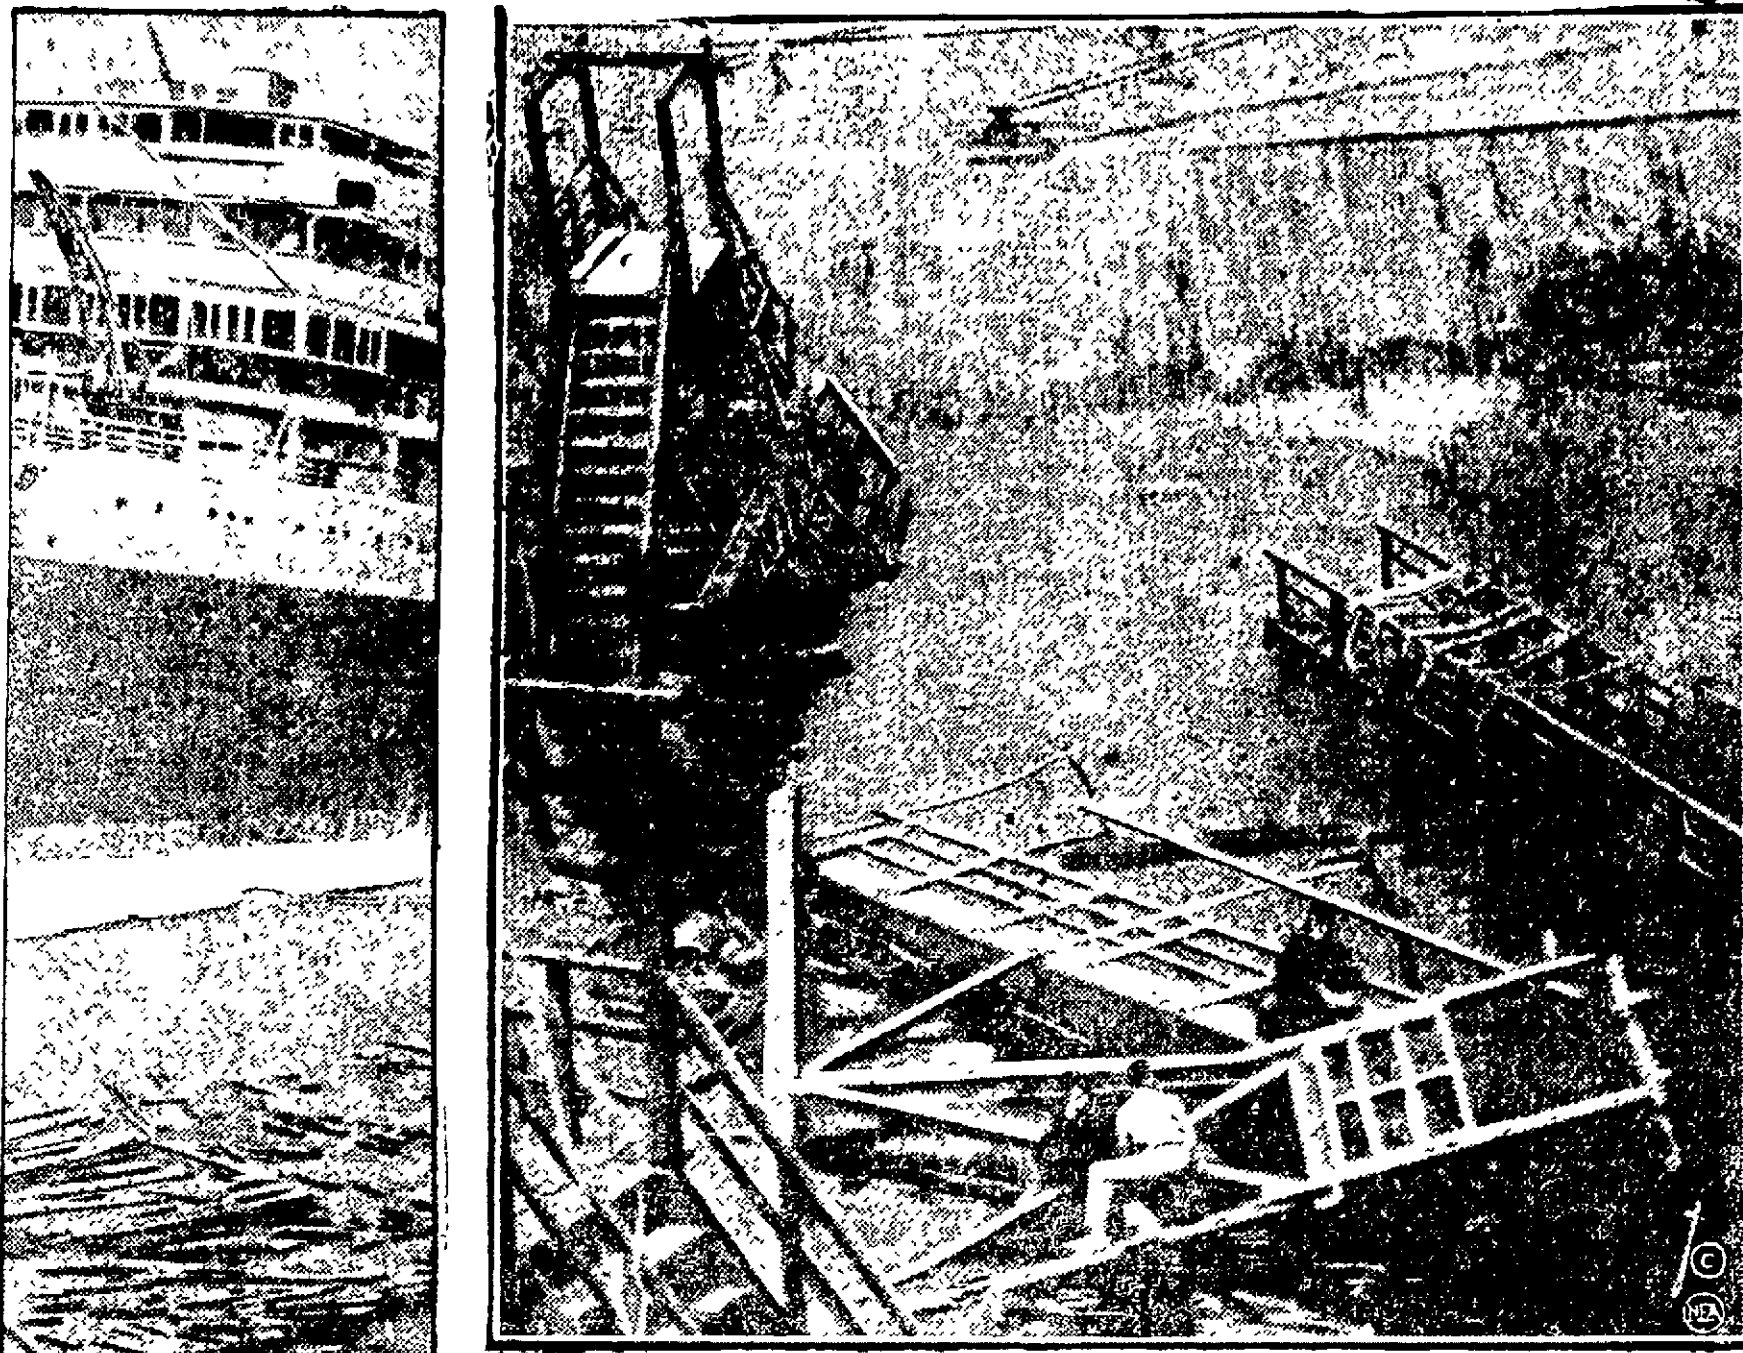

"These planters," he said, "did nearly everything that was humanly possible to mature a full crop up until August when the weevils began their destructive work. The cotton was planted early, good seed was used, the soil was well fertilized and cultivated thoroughly but after the cotton was made the weevil was allowed to take about one-third of the crop through the planters' negligence in not studying the recognized method of weevil control and making an investment of about $9 per acre for poison and doing a little extra work during the season."

However, there were a number of other farmers besides Mr. Stewart who took advantage of the state's offer to help them save their cotton crop and all of them obtained similar successes, said Dr. Leiby.

MARINE CORPS PLANES ARRIVE

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21.—The two marine corps planes arrived from Port Au Prince yesterday morning at 10:30 a. m. here at noon. The planes were new speed machines. The first plane, a Curtiss, was piloted by one of the flight instructors, and the other, a biplane, was piloted by one of the flight instructors. The planes left Port Au Prince Thursday morning and landed in Havana at 3 p. m. Poor fueling facilities at the Cuban capital prevented them from continuing to Miami yesterday afternoon. The trip from Havana this morning required about two hours.

DEFENCE SEEKS TO FORCE STATE TO SHOW HAND

(By The Associated Press)
 CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 21.—Charges by District Attorney Arthur K. Read, of Middlesex county, that motions for defense counsel in the Tyngsboro suit case murder case were made for the purpose forcing the state to disclose evidence upon which it hoped to obtain conviction of the defendants, featured a legal battle before Judge McLeod in Superior criminal court today.

The court room was crowded as the second day of legal proceedings began and the two defendants, Dr. William M. Robb, of Boston and Dr. Laiva D. Swope, of Brooklyn, charged respectively with first degree murder and accessory before and after the fact, were led in handcuffs. The physicians were arrested on indictments in connection with the death of Mrs. Alice M. Wolchen, of East Bridgewater, parts of whose dismembered body was found in two suitcases in the Merrimack river on September 1 and 2. The district attorney has announced that he has evidence that the woman was last seen alive entering Dr. Robb's office.

Today's session ended with arguments completed on motions by defense counsel asking that the indictments be quashed, that a plea of abatement be granted and that a justice and jury decide upon the legality of the indictments. The defendants have not yet pleaded to the indictments. District Attorney Read charged that the motions were entered with intent to delay the case, which he was determined should be brought to trial in October. He said the proposal of the defense to have a "double trial" was merely a clever and round about plan of attempting to learn the government's case against the defendants.

Judge McLeod will hand down an opinion on the motions Monday.

WILL SELL HOME OF JOHN RANDOLPH
 LYNCHBURG, Sept. 21.—The Roanoke plantation, the historic home of John Randolph, located ninety miles west of Richmond, has been subdivided and will be sold at auction by a Lynchburg firm of realtors, October 23. The plantation contains 1,239 acres and is famous as the home of John Randolph, of Roanoke. On the plantation is a deer park, which he dedicated to wild deer. Randolph's burial took place on the famous old estate, but in late years his body was moved to a Richmond cemetery.

AL. G. FIELDS IS POPULAR HERE

Reverting to a custom of some 20 years or more ago, the theatrical season in Danville was again opened last night with the Al G. Field Minstrels as the initial attraction and as an indication of the show played to practically a capacity house. Mr. Field himself was personally known to hundreds in Danville, and he so popularized the organization which he long headed and directed that it is still favored over all other minstrel organizations playing this city.

Times change and minstrel shows, like men, change with them. The demand of the public for novelty requires changes in the varied phases of such entertainment and in the merging of comedy and other features. In years now gone the stereotyped minstrel program called for a formal first part, followed by the usual jests and quips and repartee, then by the olio, a medley of specialties very much on the vaudeville order, and finally the solos and the dancing and in recent years, by a skit or burlesque. There is a tendency now and then to revert to some of the phases of the old-time minstrels, notably in the tumbrous and bones reappearances last night. One of the changes noted at last night's performance was the relegation of the interactor or middle man to a place of less prominence than heretofore. In the Field show of today he is distinguished by no supercilious costumes or conspicuous seat in the center of the stage. Instead, he stood or walked about the stage as he announced the numbers. Another change wrought in recent years is wherein the singers do not appear in black face and the stellar singers were made prominent by appearance in immaculate evening dress.

The opening scene in lieu of the old first part presented a pergola in the east corner of the stage, and over this blossomed purple wistaria, and on this pergola the minstrel line was arrayed, with the instrumental musicians in a show, military band uniform in rear of the chorus and soloists. Preceding this a series of patriotic pictures was projected on a screen. A landing was made soon afterward by a druggible out of which emerged a number of the black-face comedians. Then came the revised first part, entitled "On the Lawn at Maple Villa."

Early in the evening John Healy made up as "Old Black Joe," drove upon the stage in plantation negro makeup, with a mulatto bearing an imitation bale of cotton. This veteran negro character delineator and monologist always makes good and he certainly did last night.

After the "merry-making at Maple Villa, Mr. Healy and his co-travelers entered the stage and the audience for ten minutes. Mr. Healy, violin soloist, playing "Kiss Me Again." This was a delightful musical feature.

"Surprising the Sphinx," programmed as a rhythmic romance of the Pharaohs, was a skit evidently suggested by the King Tut discovery and its sequel. Its scenic investiture and costume are all appropriately Egyptian and manifest great care in the preparation. Altogether it is full of laughs, with some clever dancing by a group of eight exponents of this popular art and this pleased the audience throughout. Another comedy skit, "Lost in Luray," is also admirably mounted and provides the setting for more black-face comedy.

Vocally Jack Richards, now an old favorite, is easily the star, but he divides the singing honors with Billy Church, a high tenor and a singer of pleasing stage presence. Mr. Richards sang the old favorite with his reminiscent sadness, "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" and was enthusiastically applauded and responded with another selection, Ed. Jones sang "Somewhere for Me There's Some One Waiting," and Lord Gilbert's selection was "Just a Girl That Men Forget," another bit of sentiment. Leslie Perry, interactor, Ed. Jones and another director, contributed to the song melodies, and all the soloists were admirably supported by a fine chorus, always a delightful feature of minstrelsy.

Nick Huffard and Roni Mack, Billy and Leo Doran and others gave dancing specialties that were well received. Huffard, Billy Doran, Pete Ditzel, John Healy and Roddy Jordan were the chief contributors to the comedy and burlesque phases of the varied entertainment, which moved with a whirl from the first to the final curtain.

DOUBLE POLO GAME

WESTBURY, N. C., Sept. 21.—The American championship play tomorrow afternoon at Meadowbrook field will include a double header, as a result of the postponement today of the second match between the British army and flamingo teams. This contest will be played tomorrow after the game between the American Sheldbourne four and the Indian Higers.

FARM SITUATION BEING STUDIED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—President Coolidge and his advisers still are giving energetic study to the agricultural situation, but probably will be unable to come to any conclusions as to possible relief measures before late next week. Secretary Wallace, upon whom has devolved the task of assembling data on the subject, will not have his report ready for several days and consequently the cabinet at its regular meeting today made no effort to reach a decision.

Several possible remedies have been suggested to the executive and these are receiving attentions. Other are to be presented next week, among them the reviving of the United States Corporation to handle this season's wheat crop, but whether any of these will meet the test of the administration policy for relief along sound economic lines remains to be determined.

One development of the situation today was the reiteration at the White House that the president still is of the opinion that there exists no reason for summoning Congress in extra session. The official view is that so far as the pending questions are concerned they can wait for the regular session, which will open in a little more than two months, but it was emphasized that the executive has not entirely foreclosed the question of calling Congress to Washington if there should be any development necessitating its presence here.

MOTHER'S ASHES TO REST IN GRAVE OF HER SOLDIER SON

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—By special permission of the United States Government the ashes of a broken-hearted mother will be laid in the grave of her soldier son in the Soldiers' National Cemetery, Cypress Hill, Brooklyn.

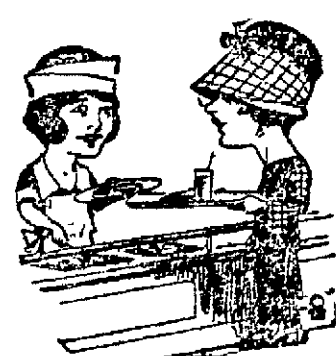

Fernando L. Birrer, who had seen service with the United States marines 26 years, had boasted to her that he bore a charmed life. Although in numerous skirmishes and battles, he had never been wounded.

Then a bullet got him in France. It was a bad wound in the right leg, and eventually the leg had to go. Even back home he did not get well. He sank slowly, and died a short time ago.

His mother, Mrs. Marie L. Birrer, of Brooklyn, died Wednesday in Poughkeepsie, where for a week she had been visiting another son, Frank. After Fred's death she could only grieve and plan for her own and the fulfillment of her one wish, that she might be laid beside him.

Permission was quickly granted by the War Department. The rule provides that wives of commissioned officers may be buried in the National Cemetery, in graves beside their husbands, and the bodies of wives of enlisted men may be buried in the same grave. The rule does not apply to mothers, but exceptions have been made.

Mrs. Birrer's body was brought or from Poughkeepsie today. It will be cremated tomorrow in Brooklyn, the ashes of her son will be opened and her ashes placed beside him.

WILLIE KAMM HITS WELL

BUT STRIKES OUT OFTEN
CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 21.—Willie Kamm, who is more than making good as third sacker for the Chicago White Sox in his first year in the big show, is having a rather peculiar season of it at the bat. It looks as if he might set a rather unusual record.

During the greater part of the year Kamm has been in the .300 class as a hitter. If he continues his good showing at the plate he will better than an even chance to hit over .400 when the curtain is rung down on 1923.

Kamm's best work at the bat has been the making of two-base hits. In his department of play he is close on the heels of Tris Speaker, who bids fair to set a new record in that respect.

However, it is concerning strikeouts that Kamm has done the unusual for a .300 batter. In many cases when Kamm has failed to hit safely, pitchers have found that striking him out is a favorite way to send him back to the bench.

Unless Kamm cuts down on his strikeouts the close of the season may see him finish as the leader in that not altogether complimentary feature of play.

Major league umpires say that for a good hitter, Kamm takes more good strikes than any other batter in the league, and has the bad habit of letting the umpire call the third one, when it's always wise to take a healthy cut at any pitch that looks good with two strikes on you.

Ruth Best Player In Yankee Outfit

(By The Associated Press.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—George Herman "Babe" Ruth of the New York Americans pennant winners of the American league for 1923, today was declared to be the most valuable player to his team and was awarded the American trophy for the season, having received the highest possible number of points and setting a record that can never be beaten.

Ruth was the unanimous choice of the committee appointed to select the American league player who has been of greatest service to his team during the championship season, registering first place on every ballot one from each of the eight cities in the circuit—for a total of 64 counts. Announcement of the award was made by President Ban Johnson of the league.

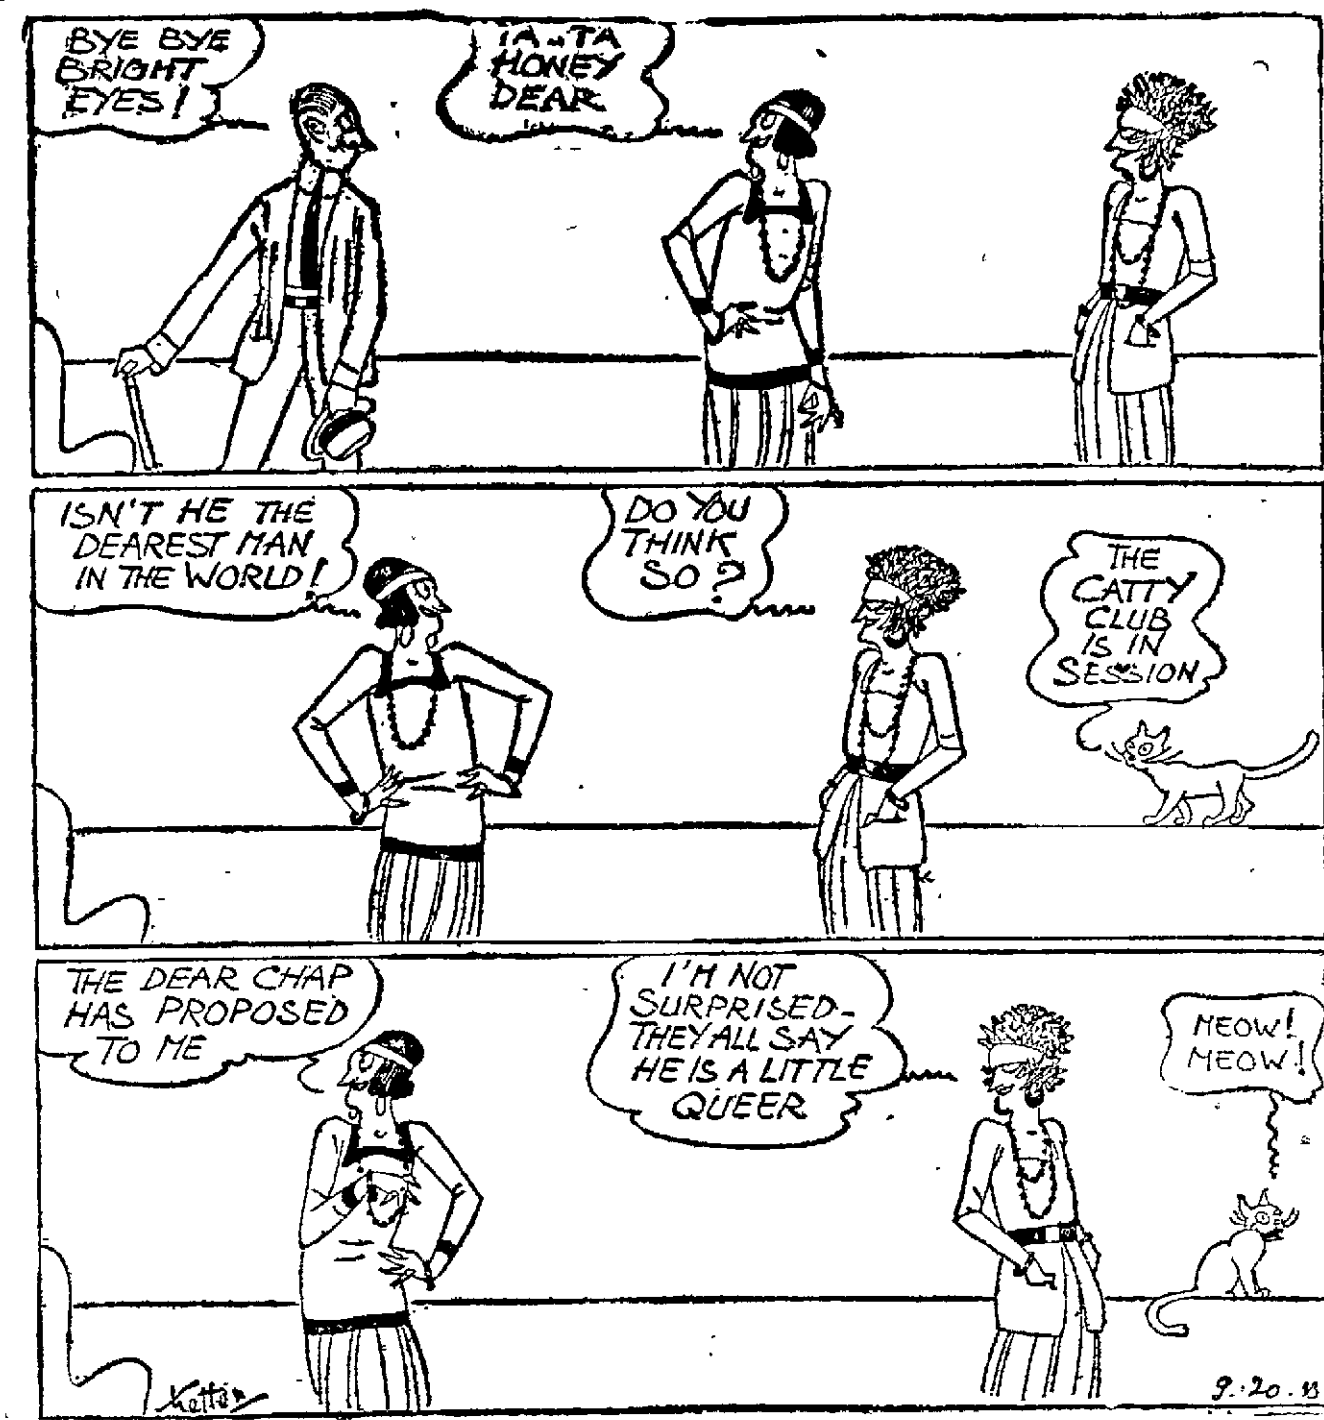

How complete was the come-back staged by the Yankee slugger this year can be seen from the fact that in the 1922 trophy contest, which was won by George Slater, of the St. Louis Browns, with 59 points, Ruth was not mentioned among the eight best players.

Eddie Collins, of the Chicago White Sox, stood second to Ruth in this year's contest with 37 points. He was named as the best player on the Chicago team by all eight of the committee men. Last season Collins was fifth with 18 points. Harry Hellmanna of Detroit is rated third and Gerber of St. Louis is tied with Joe Sewell of Cleveland for fourth, each having 20 points.

Ruth's name will be inscribed on the 1923 tablet of the $100,000 monument to be erected in East Potomac Park, Washington, and presented to the United States government by the American league as a memorial to base ball and a hall of fame for the greatest players.

The award was made by a committee of eight base ball writers. Twenty-two players figured in the voting for the trophy this year, the official count of which follows: George Herman Ruth, of New York, 64 points; Edward T. Collins, 2b, Chicago, 37 points; Harry E. Hellmanna, rf, Detroit, 31 points; Walter Gerber, ss, St. Louis, 20 points; Joe Sewell, ss, Cleveland, 20 points; C. D. Jameson, cf, Cleveland, 19 points; J. L. Busch, c, Detroit, 17 points; C. E. U. OF VA. SQUAD BEGINS PRACTICE

UNIVERSITY, Va., Sept. 21.—Days of hard scrimmages are alternating with afternoon of football fundamentals in the program of preparation through which Head Coach Earle Neal is putting the University of Virginia varsity squad. And the first year candidates under Coach H. D. Thomas are having practices that require just as much effort as do those of the regulars.

More than 200 candidates, the largest number in the history of Virginia athletics, are out on the team for the varsity and first year squads. In spite of the fact that Coach Neal has selected thirty-five men for the first string group the scrub squad is being increased each afternoon. Tuesday afternoon these were stiff scrimmages on both the upper and lower fields. The regulars paid special attention to play at the kicking and the ball was booted down the field between 15 and 20 times before Coach Neal was satisfied that the backfield men were making the proper sort of return.

That night both varsity and first year squads met together in Madison Hall and heard Coach Neal, E. K. Nelson, and Thomas discuss the work of the weeks that are before them. Johnny Blackford, captain of the regulars, introduced all the new men to the veterans' players after which each of the youngsters was given an Orange and Blue badge which all freshmen athletes are asked to wear. Yesterday the work was lighter and much of the varsity's afternoon was taken up with putting and blocking. Today the old men had rested enough to be put through another stiff period of line bucking and tackling. The varsity and the first year teams will probably have a regular game Saturday afternoon.

SEEK TO REDUCE COST OF ARMY HOSPITAL WORK

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Careful inspection of a veterans bureau hospital cost is being made by director Higgins to determine how they can be reduced. At present it costs $5.78 per day per man for general hospital treatment $5.30 for tubercular treatment, and $5.30 for neuropsychiatric hospitalization. Of this sum $2 cents is expended from every dollar for salaries, 27 cents for food, 7 cents for material and supplies and the remainder for such items as fuel light and rent.

MEN ARRESTED TRYING TO SELL $22,000 IN LOOT

(By The Associated Press.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Three men were arrested here today charged with having tried to sell to a New York brokerage house $22,000 worth of the loot from a $100,000 bond robbery at the Southern and Western Life Insurance Co., Cincinnati, last November. They were locked up in default of $10,000 bail each. The prisoners, secretly indicted last Tuesday, were William McAvoy, John Macewan and his brother, Hugh H. Macewan. A fourth man indicted is still at liberty. The trio also alleged to have cashed through E. H. Rollins and Son, $14,000 worth of Miami Hotel, Dayton, Ohio, bonds and $3,000 worth of bonds of the Mays Building Company of Cincinnati.

MANY REFUSED PERMITS TO SEE RACE HORSE OFF

(By Chicago Tribune Service.)
SOUTHAMPTON, Sept. 21.—Thousands of persons this afternoon were refused permits to view the quarters on the Aquitania that Papyrus, the famous English race horse will occupy. It is announced that Princess Beatrice will journey from the Isle of Wight tomorrow in order to see the horse embarking. Special arrangements have been made to handle the crowd at the embarkation at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Papyrus' stall has been padded with mattresses and also with life rafts so if the boat is wrecked the horse can bite loose and float ashore.

Arrangements have been made for a seaplane to escort the Aquitania down the river and across the bar carrying correspondents desiring to see a last view of Papyrus. The plane has been fitted with a wireless telephone so the correspondents can send last bulletins of the horse's condition. Southampton is rapidly filling with people anxious to see the final arrangements for the shipment.

DIARY OF COLONEL IN REVOLUTIONARY WAR

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 21.—The diary of Colonel Francis Taylor, of Orange county, a major in the Revolutionary War, covering a period from 1786 to 1793, has just been received by the State Library here. The diary is an original manuscript, including thirteen leather-bound volumes. Colonel Taylor was promoted to a colonelcy when placed in charge of English and Russian prisoners at Charlottesville, after Burgoyne's surrender.

WHISKY RING IS UNCOVERED BY FEDERAL AGENTS

(By The Associated Press.)
CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 21.—Sensational developments are expected to follow the arrest of three men and a woman by Federal prohibition agents and agents of the department of justice today, and the seizure of barrels of whiskey alleged to be shipped into Cincinnati from New York.

Government agents believe they have unearthed a whiskey ring whose operations extend into several states. It is said they have been working on the case for two years, since a distillery in Loretto, Kentucky, was robbed.

Prohibition agents raided the apartment of Robert J. Lawrence, real estate broker, late last night and arrested Lawrence, his wife, and Lawrence Worden, manager of a hotel. A quantity of whiskey alleged to have been found in the flat, was seized. At the same time it became known that Federal agents and police were watching a car with 19 barrels of whiskey on a railroad siding here. The affidavit on which Lawrence and his wife were arrested, charges that they broke locks and doors of a distillery at Loretto and removed whiskey on which the tax had not been paid. While the couple was awaiting arraignment before United States Commissioner Thomas M. Gregory today, Lawrence was served with another warrant charging conspiracy to violate the national prohibition law. Worden also was named in the fugitive from justice warrant as was Isador Rosenberg, salesman, New York, and a man named Carl Boles. Rosenberg was arrested today.

Elevens Out To "Beat Nebraska"

By LAWRENCE PERRY
(Copyright, 1923, by The Bee.)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Football elevens of the Missouri Valley conference began practice the first of the week for a season that promises to be unusually enlivening. The usual slogan "beat Nebraska" is heard throughout the land and the various coaches of the valley have this as their highest aim.

Yet it is not at all certain that any conference elevens will take the measure of the Corn Huskers, not only because few lettermen have been lost from the strong 1922 team but because material coming up from last year's freshman squad is exceptionally promising. Again, Fred Dawson has established a definite system at Lincoln and the school of football goes on from year to year building, in accordance with that scheme.

The great feat of Nebraska last season was the defeat of Notre Dame and the one blot upon her escutcheon—a beating by Syracuse—a game which the writer was privileged to see. It is not that the writer learned a lot through that unexpected beating and mistakes then made are not likely to be repeated.

Potsy Clark reports a great aggregation of players at the University of Kansas. Not only will the Lawrence Institution have most of her 1922 regulars but new material of fine quality. Any team upon the Kansas schedule would do well to take the Jay Hawks seriously.

Gwynn Henry, a coaching transfer from Emporia in the Kansas conference has a reputation to win in his new job at the University of Missouri. He has available some of the best lettermen from the 1922 team and a lot of qualified material from the sophomore class. A great deal of confidence is felt in Henry's ability to turn out a rousing team, Charley Bachman, the old Notre Dame player, is pleased with the Kansas Aggies' material and says he expects, at least hopes, to have a bell ringer eleven this season. At Oklahoma, Benny Owen has a likely squad but no one associated with this university is making any claims.

Drake will present a backfield comparable to the 1922 constellation. In addition a strong nucleus of regulars are back. The Des Moines team did not meet Nebraska last year but made a clean sweep of all other conference opponents. At St. Louis, Washington will have a better team than last year according to report. As to the 1922 team, it is noted that it was a better outfit than the season's record showed.

At Ames affairs have been in a chaotic state since the resignation of Charley Mayer, athletic director and it is difficult to say what effect this condition will have upon the squad which contains, it is reported, unusually fine material.

Grinnell is not likely to be dangerous for strong opponents. She had a fairly good eleven last year and the Notre Dame style of play which marked her game will be carried as far as the law—with respect to shift plays—allows.

GRID SEASON IN SOUTH TO START

(By The Associated Press)
LEXINGTON, Va., Sept. 21.—The 1923 football season in the South will be opened here tomorrow, when the marine corps eleven from Quantico will clash with the Virginia Military Institute squad. Both teams were put through light practice today, the marines using Alumni field and the cadets the parade grounds. No chance of injury to the players was taken by the coaches of either team, the day's working being confined principally to signal drills. Although the Devil Dogs will go into tomorrow's game with an advantage in weight and experience, Virginia Institute followers are counting on the speed of flying squadron to the odds. PERKINS STOPS COLLINS AT 2ND

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—Cy Perkins of the Philadelphia Athletics is considered one of the best catchers in either major league. As a matter of fact a number of experts consider him the premier backstop of the big show.

Perkins does everything well, but no one thing better than throw. He has a wonderful arm and gets the ball away with unerring accuracy. A number of the Philadelphia pitchers permit opposing runners to get a big lead, but despite this Perkins turns most of them back.

Eddie Collins of the Chicago White Sox and George Sisler of the Browns, who has been out of the game all season because of eye trouble, are two of the best base runners in the American League. There is little to choose between them, yet Sisler has always been easy for Perkins to throw out, while Collins has been correspondingly tough.

Recently in a game between Chicago and the Athletics which Mack's club won 3 to 2, Collins in the 8th, inning hit safely and a moment later tried to steal second. Pitcher Harris permitted him to get away to a flying start, and only a remarkable throw by Perkins made it possible to get Collins at second. That throw just about saved the game.

After the contest Perkins remarked: "Although I have been in the American League a number of years that is the first time I can ever remember throwing out Eddie Collins. It has always seemed that, every time he started to steal on me, something always happened to make an attempt successful. Throwing Collins out today is the first time in my career. If my memory serves me correctly, I have been trying to do it for over a half dozen years."

Sweetzer Leads In Amateur Golf Champ Tourney

(By The Associated Press)
FLOESMOOR, Sept. 21.—Jesse Sweetzer of New York, got and nearer the goal today in his defense of the amateur golf championship by defeating Bob Gardner, of Chicago, in the semi-finals. The champion played in the morning round and was even with par for the 11 holes played in the second round, while Gardner, slipping at times with various clubs took 81 for the first round and was two over par when he lost at 29th hole.

Seldom was the champion poorer from the tee than Gardner, and he was much more deadly with his irons and his putter. The former champion flubbed two drives shanked two mashies and missed one 3 foot putt, while he failed a number of times to get down from five to eight feet. At one hole Sweetzer pitched in within four inches of the cup and on the 27th where Gardner laid him a stymie, the champion jumped it with a mashie niblick and holed out a par four.

Max Marston of Philadelphia will be Sweetzer's opponent in the final. Sweetzer's opponent in the final was the result of his victory 3 and 2 over Francis Ouimet of Boston. While Marston did not shoot remarkable golf, taking 81 for the first round and being only a trifle better on the second, Ouimet did not get his game in working order, and finally slipped on the last few holes letting Marston get the advantage that his game of today could not overcome.

Ouimet was not crisp with his approach shots, and he missed numerous chances to home medium length putts. While Marston was not playing any better than Ouimet at any place he was steadier at points where Ouimet slipped. This was the first time that Marston had ever reached the finals in a national championship although he once finished the semi-final.

Play started today under adverse weather conditions, an overnight rain having slowed up the course, which was swept by a cold northeast wind that quartered many of the holes. Only a few faithful friends followed the Sweetzer-Gardner match at the start, but gradually the skies cleared and bright sunshine greeted the spectators who rapidly increased in numbers until each match had a thousand or more in its gallery. The favorites of the gallery lost in both matches but the remarkable shooting of the champion was loudly applauded and Marston got his share of points.

BALDWIN RESISTS POINCARÉ VIEW: MAY GO IT ALONE

LONDON, Sept. 20.—The Daily Express says this morning that Premier Baldwin and Poincaré failed to agree at their conference yesterday. Premier Baldwin is declared to be wholly unable to accept the French viewpoint.

On his return the British premier is expected to develop a policy tantamount to separate action. His policy may involve withdrawal of British troops from Cologne.

Ambassador George Harvey declared to Universal Service today that he believes a settlement of the Ruhr and reparations problem is nearer than ever before.

GRID SEASON STARTS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The 1923 gridiron season will get underway tomorrow in many parts of the country but few of the better known elevens will be seen in action. A scattered dozen or more games are scheduled but most of the leading colleges are polishing up their machines in preparation for the real season's inaugural on Saturday of next week.

Among the eastern games slated for tomorrow are three between up state New York aggressive, Colgate, looming as one of the most dangerous eastern combinations of the year will swing into action against Alfred at Hamilton; Clarkson opposes Union at Schenectady; and Hamilton plays St. Stephens at Clinton. The army's scheduled contest with the Third army corps eleven at West Point has been cancelled.

"EXPECT GREAT THINGS"

It is an interesting and impressive fact that the V-Type, 90 degree, eight-cylinder Cadillac of today is sold at the same price as the four-cylinder Cadillac of eighteen years ago

*The list price of Model D did not include lamps, top or windshield. These were ordered and paid for as extra equipment.

In many industries the buying power of the dollar has, in the past twenty years, steadily lessened, but in the automobile industry it has actually increased.

This fact is admirably illustrated by the case of Cadillac, long acknowledged to be the standard of value among fine cars.

Quality undreamed of in the earlier Cadillac has been attained. The value of the car has multiplied several times over.

Yet reference to our records reveals that the V-type ninety degree eight-cylinder Cadillac of today is sold at about the same price as the four-cylinder Cadillac of eighteen years ago.

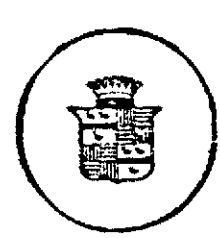

The explanation, of course, lies in the efficiency of Cadillac methods—an efficiency which combines quality and volume for great economy, and makes possible value that is unapproached in fine car manufacture.

GRAND CIRCUIT FAVORITES TAG

(By The Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 21.—Favorites found the going rather rough this afternoon when grand circuit racing was resumed on a heavy track after a three day lay off because of rain.

Tommy Murphy drove winners in the first two events, but only one was a favorite, Rose Scott, favor 4 in the capital city $3,000 stake for 2:05 trotters, easily showed her superiority and won as she pleased in straight heats.

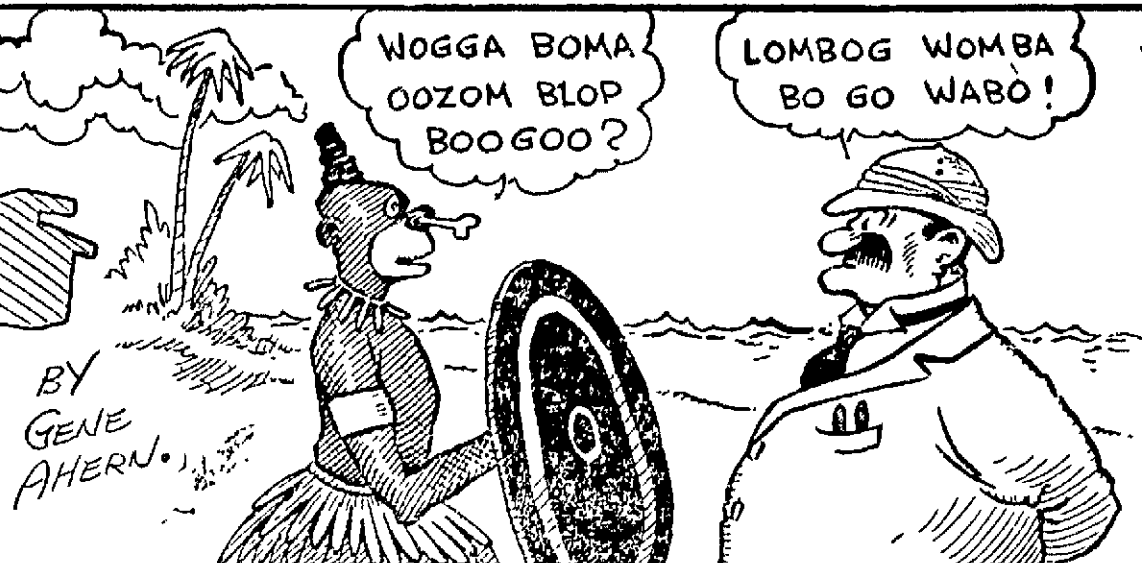

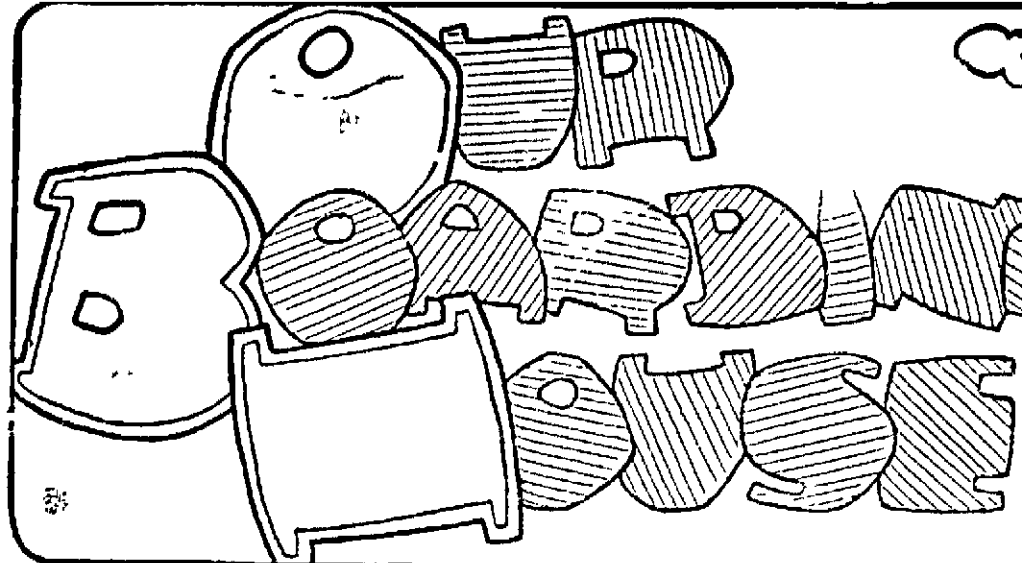

Taurida was made the favorite in the M. and M. $5,000 stake for 2:14 trotters, but the best she could do was to finish second in each of the last two heats, while Mrs. York of the Murphy stable was a straight heat winner.

Prisco June, first choice in the 2:40 pace failed to win a single heat, honors going to Logan Hodgewood and Peter Elawas, the two second choices. The fourth race for 2:15 trotters furnished another surprise. Mary Ann, the strong favorite, was out trotted in the stretch by Zaguilla in each heat.

Must Act On e Land Lease In Alabama Tonight

(By The Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—Action
by the war department before tonight on the question involved in the government's Gorgas Steam Power Plant on land in Alabama owned by the Alabama Power Company, was forecasted by Secretary Weeks after a conference with President Coolidge.
The secretary discussed the matter with the President for more than half an hour. The lease held by the government to the Alabama Power Company and expires tonight at midnight. The Gorgas Steam Power Plant is embraced in the war built Muscle Shoals project and was included by Henry Ford in his offer to buy and lease that project.

Mr. Ford recently was given an opportunity by the government to exclude the Gorgas plant from his offer, Alabama Power Company having previously offered to buy the government's interest at what has been described by officials as a fair price.

Mr. Ford took the proposal under consideration and Secretary Weeks said today that he had been in receipt of a communication from the Detroit manufacturer. The details of Mr. Ford's communication, however, were not immediately made public. The secretary saying he preferred to wait until a decision in the matter has been reached. The government has been endeavoring to obtain a further extension of the lease, possibly until November 1.

AUTO COLLISION ON NORTH
MAIN STREET ON SUNDAY
A new sport model Buick machine owned and driven by J. H. Law yesterday afternoon late, sideswiped a Ford sedan driven by W. J. Adams, leaving off a rear wheel. The accident occurred on North Main Street near the intersection of the Bradley road. Both machines were going in the same direction. The Ford being in front. Law is said to have attempted to pass the Ford. He cut to the left but did not go far enough to miss the car. His bumped caught the wheel of the Ford and tore it loose.
The Buick was not damaged. Law was placed under arrest for driving a car under the influence of whiskey.
He was this morning arraigned in court on the charge but his case was set for tomorrow.

UNRULY NEGRO ARRESTED
EARLY THIS AFTERNOON
A negro man, by means of his unnatural demeanor on Main street this afternoon, caused Police Detective J.
N. Campbell to place him under arrest for being drunk. The negro, whose name was later learned as Giles, immediately resisted and declined to be taken in custody. L. L.
Wilson, special agent for the Southern Railway, was with Campbell. The two took part in effecting the arrest.
The manner in which the negro resisted officers to believe he was deposed of. Giles resisted so recklessly that Campbell struck him. This only tended to enrage the negro and he only fought more desperately. However, he was finally taken to the police station, where he once more showed resistance and Campbell slapped his face again. This time Giles seemed to be resenting being slapped previously by Campbell.

Steps To Teach

Americanism In Carolina Schools

RALEIGH, N. C., Sept. 22.—Steps are being taken by the State Board of Education to put into effect the law sponsored by the American Legion and passed by the last General Assembly, requiring the teaching of Americanism in the public schools of North Carolina. It was announced today by the Department of Public Instruction.

Letters were sent by State Superintendent A. T. Allen this week to publishers, asking them to submit suitable text books for the new compulsory course, and it was stated in letters sent to the various city and county superintendents of public instruction that the State Board expects to select a proper course of study and appropriate text books for the teaching of Americanism by January 1, 1924.

The superintendents were instructed in the meantime to institute the new course of study in their schools without the use of text books for pupils. It was suggested that the work could be carried on by conducting debates on suitable subjects, oral recitations, readings and the singing of patriotic songs. The book, "Education for Democracy," Brooks, was named as a handbook for teachers of Americanism.

The law sponsored by the American Legion requires a course in Americanism of at least 30 class hours. Rules adopted by the State Board of Education provide for the teaching of the subject in the sixth, seventh and eighth grades with a ten hour course in each.

CHICAGO, Sept. 21.—Running up a blazing staircase and battering down the locked door of a flat in which eight children, two women and two men were trapped, Policeman Elbridge H. Curran single-handed today saved the entire group before rousing other tenants and giving the alarm.

A player after teeing his ball reaches the conclusion that the sand box on the teeing ground interferes with his sighting his ball. He contends that since he is of such opinion that he has a perfect right to remove the sand box, since he desires to tee off at that particular spot. His opponent claims that he has no such right, and that if he feels the sand box interferes with his sighting the ball, he should re-tee his ball at a different spot. Who is right?

The player who believes that the sand box is interfering with his play has a perfect right to remove same. A sand box on the teeing ground is regarded as loose impediment and may be removed.

BYARS MAY OPPOSE FORWARD AS COMMISSIONER

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 21.—J. Cloyd Byars, formerly of Bristol, may become a candidate for the state corporation commission in opposition to Major Alexander Forward. Although he has declined to run to date, his friends say they will be able to persuade him to make the race.

The movement was started by citizens who recently were refused a permit to operate a bus line between Washington and Alexandria.

UNUSUAL FOLK IN DAY'S NEWS

Dog Listed As Person

(Special to The Bee.)

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 22.—In the Milwaukee city directory appears this line:

Reinholdt, King, r 600 Twenty-seventh-st.

"King" Reinholdt is a dog, probably the only dog in the world listed in a regular city directory as a regular person.

And his owner, George Reinholdt, insists that he is just that—a regular fellow.

"King's" unusual distinction came about quite by accident. A young woman, canvassing the city for city directory names, asked Reinholdt names of all who lived in the house.

The thought of the dog came naturally to his mind. He realized his mistake and he intended to correct it immediately, but someone interrupted them and the census taker left before he had a chance to explain.

"So King's name went in with the rest," Reinholdt explained.

"Everyone in the community knows and loves King. School children stop to play with him and men on their way to work greet him as an old friend. He is only a mongrel five years old, but he is a wonderful dog."

GOVERNORS WILL MEET IN OCTOBER

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21.—President Coolidge has virtually decided to hold the proposed conference of governors on enforcement of prohibition and other laws in Washington about the middle of October.

The governors are to be invited here after their regular annual meeting at West Baden, Ind., on October 15. The president has been in communication with a number of the state executives and some of them advised him that the time suggested would suit their convenience.

No additional light was thrown on the scope of the conference, which originally was designed mainly to discuss co-operation between federal and state authorities in enforcing prohibition. The program was extended recently to include immigration and possibly other questions.
